

Good Social Work in the Time of Covid-19
Unison Scotland
Social Work Issues Group
Webinar Series
December 2020-March 2021

All are welcome to attend our one hour monthly lunchtime Webinar series which will look at front line social work in Scotland - and how a commitment to social justice and good practice can be maintained in difficult times. The four part series will cover radical social work, the Independent Care Review for Children, poverty and inequality, and the crisis in social care for adults.

The First webinar on the theme of Radical Social Work will take place on Wednesday 2nd December 2020 1pm – 2pm and will feature Jane Fenton, senior lecturer, Dundee University (author of Social Work for Lazy Radicals), Rory Anderson, Scottish local authority children and family social worker, Unison member and National Convenor of SWAN (the Social Work Action Network), and Colin Turbett (author of Doing Radical Social Work).

Free tickets to the event on Eventbrite:

<https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/good-social-work-in-the-time-of-covid-19-unison-scotland-swig-tickets-127844308769>

Enquiries to: Stephen.smellie@southlanarkshire.gov.uk